DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 37, and 39-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hanagasaki (US 5,767,541).

Hanagasaki discloses a capacitor structure comprising: a lower electrode (9) of Pt having a thickness of 20 nm (200 angstroms) (col.8 lines 5-10); a capacitor dielectric (10) formed on the bottom electrode; an upper electrode (11) of Pt having a thickness of 50 nm (500 angstroms) (col.8 lines 5-10) formed on the capacitor dielectric layer. See Hanagasaki's Fig.1H.

As shown in Hanagasaki's Fig.1H, the lower and upper electrodes are uniformly thin and continuous.

The limitations “formed in the presence of both oxygen and nitrous oxide at a predetermined ratio with a combined flow rate in the range of about 1500 sccm to about 2500 sccm.” in claim 37, “formed by depositing platinum in a CVD deposition chamber in the presence of both oxygen and nitrous oxide at a predetermined temperature and at a pressure of from about 10 to about 1000 Torr” in claim 41, “temperature is from about 250 ° C to about 300 ° C.” in claim 42 and “pressure is from about 15 to about 30 Torr” in claim 43 are taken to be a product by process limitation, it is the patentability of the claimed product and not of recited process steps which must be established. Therefore, when the prior art discloses a product which reasonably appears to be identical with or only slightly different than the product claimed in a product-by process claim, a rejection based on sections 102 or 103 is fair. A product by process claim directed to the product per se, no matter how actually made, In re Hirao, 190 USPQ 15 at 17 (footnote 3). See In re Fessman, 180 USPQ 324,326(CCPA 1974); In re Marosi et al., 218 USPQ 289,292 (Fed. Cir. 1983); and particularly In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964,966 (Fed. Cir. 1985), all of which make it clear that it is the patentability of the final structure of the product “gleaned” from the process steps, which must be determined in a “product by process ” claim, and not the patentability of the process. See also MPEP 2113. Moreover, an old or obvious product produced by a new method is not a patentable product, whether claim in “product by process” claim or not.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 37, 39-45 have been considered but are not persuasive.

Applicants argue that Hanagasaki does not teach the lower and upper electrodes are uniformly thin and continuous because the method being used to form the lower electrode in Hanagasaki is different than that in the present invention. In response, as clearly shown in Hanagasaki's Fig.1H, the lower and upper electrodes are uniformly thin and continuous. The arguments of counsel cannot take the place of evidence in the record. In re Schulze, 346 F.2d 600, 602, 145 USPQ 716, 718 (CCPA 1965); In re Geisler, 116 F.3d 1465, 43 USPQ2d 1362 (Fed. Cir. 1997) ("An assertion of what seems to follow from common experience is just attorney argument and not the kind of actual evidence that is required to rebut a prima facie case of obviousness."). See MPEP 716.01(c) for examples of attorney statements which are not evidence and which must be supported by an appropriate affidavit or declaration.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
